

Reading Tutor Program

Become a Tutor
and Make a Difference
in a Child's Life

Giving the gift of your time and attention will have an enormous impact on a young student.

- Dedicate at least 60 minutes of your time each week.

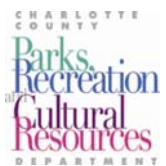

Reading is one of the most basic survival skills in our society, a roadmap to a world of exploration. Failure to read is connected to poor academic performance. When a child discovers early in life the pleasures of reading, a window to the universe is opened and, along the way, self-confidence, critical thinking abilities and a host of other traits essential in school and in life are uncovered. Your involvement in "Good Friends" will do more than improve the reading level of children. It will improve their attitude, their self-esteem, their listening skills and their imagination.

- Meet one-on-one with a student at a local public library.
- Dedicate at least 60 minutes of your time each week.
- Receive introductory training and ongoing support from full-time staff at the Charlotte County Library System.
